

G20 YEA welcomes Qtum as global partner

G20 Young Entrepreneurs' Alliance announces partnership with leading Chinese Crypto firm

Buenos Aires, Argentina (September 20, 2018) The organization representing the world's young entrepreneurs today welcomed Qtum to its growing ranks of global partners.

“Over the past eight years, we have welcomed leading global corporations and entrepreneurs to our network” said Florian Glossner, Chair of the Steering Committee of the G20 Young Entrepreneurs' Alliance, speaking at “Today we are pleased to welcome Qtum as a global partner of the Alliance.”

Qtum joins such firms as EY and Accenture as part of the roster of corporations that support the Alliance's mission to create the conditions that encourage and support young entrepreneurs to start and grow businesses across the G20.

“We are pleased to support the G20 YEA,” said Patrick Dai, CEO of Shanghai-based Qtum, “Our team are entrepreneurs themselves and we understand how important it is to support other young entrepreneurs around the world and encourage their potential.”

Glossner and Dai spoke at the Alliance's annual summit in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Each year, the G20 YEA brings together hundreds of the world's top young entrepreneurs to meet each other, develop policies and engage with world leaders. The Buenos Aires Summit, hosted by Argentinian national business body CAME Joven, attracted a roster of top entrepreneurs and speakers from more than 20 countries.

The G20 Young Entrepreneurs' Alliance (G20 YEA) is the global network of young entrepreneurs and the organisations that support them. It was established to convene each year in advance of the G20 Summit, with the aim of championing the importance of young entrepreneurs to the G20 member nations and to share examples and practices. The Alliance was officially created at the G20 Young Entrepreneurs Summit in Toronto, Canada in 2010 and has regularly to engage the G20 Leaders since that point.
